The Dream of Enthusiasts Seized With the Annexation Fever

They Claim Cleveland Wants Not Only Hawaii, But Canada as Well.

It is suggested to several members that ly England might not stand idly by and see the United States annex such an impor-tant possession as British America. The reply was that Europe would be in a blaze of war within the next twenty-four menths and that England would be so busy protecting her European and other colonial possessions that she would not be likely to do more than merely protest against the action of this Government. It is remarked that the sentint in Canada is entirely favorable to its annexation by this country. The interest of both countries, it is argued, are identical and indissoluble, and the greatest good results to both can be secured by no better means than by the unification of the two

THE FIRST GUN. The first gun, it is said, will be fired in the House next week. One of the leading Democrats, has, it is said, a speech in prepara tion, which will to a great extent reflect the prospective policy of the incoming Adminis tration. Several days ago it was stated that many Democrats were averse to giving ex-pression to their views until they had heard from Mr. Cleveland. They have evidently heard from him in an unmistakable way. Nothing has transpired to change the prevalent sentiment in Administration circles favor of appexation. Indeed. Secretar believed to be more thoroughly wedded to that course than ever since his erence with Chairman Biount of the House Committee on Foreign Affairs: Reprecommittee, and Senator Morgan of the Sennmittee on Foreign relations.

Pending the arrival of Hawaiian anuexa commissioners the Administration will continue to feel the pulses of the two Houses of Congress on the subject.

It can be said by authority that the Administration officials as far as they have gone in their work of "pulse feeling" believe that their work of "pulse feeling" believe that the prevailing sentiment is in favor of an-nexation and that this will be the course arrival of the annexation commission, which would make it expedient to adopt other means of obtaining immediate control of the

At the present time the question of a pro tectorate is a secondary consideration and is receiving little attention. To change the views of the Administration there will need to be a very sudden revulsion of public sentient on that point or news from Hawaii showing that the provincial Government has been short lived and the Queen is again in control. The authorities do not anticipate the receipt of any such news as long as the ton remains in port.

Boston remains in port.

WHY THE BOSTON WAS THERE.

If all the intimations that seem to come from the Administration concerning its plan of operation in the Hawalian matter are to be believed, the President is prepared and has been ready for many months to act in a very decisive manner and with a view to the establishment of the influence of the United States in the Hawalian Islands. The report is again uttered that the President looked for an outbreak, and the statement is made, apparently on authority, that the Boston was is again uttered that the President looked for an outbreak, and the statement is made, apparently on authority, that the Boston was not at Honoiulu by accident but in accordance with the understanding of the Administration that it would be advisable to have an American force there just at the time the Boston appared in the harbor of Honoiulu. It is expected that the Hawaiian commissioners will find upon their arrival that the President and the Department of State are prepared to meet them in the most friendly manner and to co-operate with them to some extent in their objects. There will be some surprise, no doubt, if the plan of the Administration contemplates de farture from the policy enunciated by Wedster in 1842, when the State Department declared that this country could not consent to any operation that interfered with the independence of the islands, as the possession of them by a maritime power would threaten military surveillance in the Pacific similar to that which Bermuda has afforded in the Atlantic.

A KINGDOM AT STAKE.

THE BACE BETWEEN HAWAHANS ACROSS TH CONTINENT. Curcago, Feb. 2 .- John M. Cleghorn of San Francisco, uncle of Princess Kaiulani, heir apparent to the Hawaiian throne, stole a rch on the Hawaiian Commissioners who on their way to Washington to present are on their way to washingtoned present the claims of the provisional Government. As soon as the new of the revolt became known Mr. Cleghorn packed his grip and took the drst train for Washington, with the Chicago sight hours ahead of the commissioners in reach the Capitol that much in adof them. His purpose is to present the of his niece to the United States Govint before the commission appointed by vernment arrives at the Capitol. He er of A. S. Cleghorn, whose de-e was a sister of the deposed Queen it, whose daughter is at a fashall concerned if the deposed Queen be kept from the throne. She hates foreigners and if her demands had found favor it would only have been a matter of a few years before she would have confiscated the property of all the aliens. She did wrong in endeavoring to get the Cabinet to sign a new constitution which would distranchise foreigners.

"I do not think the provisional government will last long, for I believe the United States will establish a protectorate instead of annexing the Islands. England will certainly not permit annexation without maxing a great deal of trouble. If the United States will not see the justice of the claims I will lay before it, I shall go to England and appeal to Great Britain.

"The Princess Kalulani is a strong brained woman, capable of ruling Hawaii. She is receiving the best of education with the expectation of some day sitting on the Hawaiian throne."

Mr. Cleghorn is extremely anxious to reach Washington to correct what he says are false impressions received by the President and Cabinet. He said that the Princess and Queen were the best of friends and that the Queen telegraphed her niece, giving an ac-count of the events which took her from the

THE GREAT PRIZE AT STAKE. The prize at stake is the political and commercial control of the cross-roads of the Pacific, the lost kingdom of Queef Lilloukalana. The result involves possibly a clash at arms between two of the greatest nations of the earth, Great Britain and America. It is an unequal race, the representative of Princess Kalulani, the possible sovereign under a regency, having fully twelve hours start of the commission representing the protectorate. Engines are being crowded to their fullest gapacity, for the difference of time may be equalized by the office hours of the department officials at Washington: Despite the fact of the great start of the Princess' uncle and representative the couriers of the two factions of the little country of the Pacific may reach the ears of the State Department at about the same time. It will then be an equal fight between the representatives in placing the The prize at stake is the political and com between the representatives in placing the situation before the United States Government, with no opportunity for a partiality

What was worrying the officials was that wing to the blizzard the train from the Vest, which connects with the Pennsylvania West, which conhects with the remissional all limited at the National Capital, was several hours late. CLEGHORN DUE TO-NIGHT 'clock to-night. So far as getting the ears of the State Department officials is concerned, it was thought here he would be just as well off if he did not get there until to-morrow morning or to-morrow noon. Washington officials are noted for early hours and business such as Mr. Cheshorn's could scarcely he ness such as Mr. Cleghorn's could scarcely be taken up before midday.

The revolutionists' representatives undoubtedly realized this and knew that if they could catch the 12:30 o'clock train on the Fort Wayne road this afternoon they can get into Washington at 2:30 o'clock direct to the State Department as soon as they can reach Washington the chances were they might get an audience at about the same time as Mr. Cleghorn. There would then be an equal chance—hence the race with a kingdom at stake.

MAY TRAVEL ON SPECIAL TRAIN. Over at the Fort Wayne Depot it was said that if the Chicago & Northwestern train got into Chicago even two and one-half hours the commissioners would have difficulty in making the Fort no difficulty in making the Fort Wayne train, for the facilities for transferring a special car were of the oest. The omciais interviewed showed a surprising familiarity with the movements of the Commissioners. "They are not on a special car at all," they said. "They're on the regular Chicago & Northwestern Omana train. Of course if that train is late and the commissioners in a great hurry the Northwestern people can make arrangements for transfering them make arrangements for transferring them from the regular car to a special car at Western avenue in the outskirts of the city and thus get them over to our road in time. Maybe they're doing that," he added suggestively."

The revolutionist commissioners arrived at Chicago three hours late. HAWAII'S COMMISSIONER.

DISCUSSING THE CAUSE OF THE REVOLT AND SENTIMENT OF THE PEOPLE. OMAHA, Neb., Feb. 2.-Mr. Lorin A. Thurston, Chairman of the Hawaiian Commissioners, who arrived here last night on their way to Washington, gave some additional particulars in regard to the revolution before leaving this morning.

"When word came down to us," he said,
"to know if we would support the Cabinet against the Queen, we sent around to get the names of all those who were willing to do so and who had rifies. We did not know whether there were twenty men or 500 who whether there were twenty men or 500 who possessed weapons. The response was unanimous, and it was like setting fire to a bundle of straw. There was no premeditation, but it was felt that matters had gone as far as they could go, and that something had to be done. The feeling was general that if there was to be a change of government it must be the United States or nothing, and not a man would have answered the appeal to arms if he had thought that it was not to be the United States.

to arms if he had thought that it was not to be the United States.

"The idea that has gone abroad that the cry for annexation is in the interests of the sugar men is all wrong. The sugar men know nothing about it and they are not in favor of annexation except as it will be the only means to save the islands from anarchy. The great fault of the Queen was that she did not wish to reign as a constitutional monarch. We would have been fully satisfied to pattern our government after that of Great Britain and we tried to do so, but the Queen would not have it. She was interested in the cry, "Hawaii for the Hawaiians." Now the Europeans and the Americans pay nearly all the taxes, and they do not propose that the natives shall have the spending of the money they contribute. That is what the natives want to do."

"On what terms do you wish to be annexed to the littles."

"On what terms do you wish to be annexed to the United States?" to the United States?"

"Well, that is a matter that has not been definitely settled, and though we have plans, it would not be becoming for us to disclose them until we know whether there is a chance of our being accepted. We would not expect to come in as a State, because our population is not large enough, and it is probable we should ask to come in as Territory."

"Would you wish a resident of Honolulu to be appointed Governor?"

"That is the general wish. We would be

be appointed Governor?"

"That is the general wish. We would be satisfied with the same terms as territories, with certain adaptations fitted to our peculiar population."

"How is the population of the island divided?"

"If annexed what would you do about universal suffrage?"

"That is a question that would have to be considered. While we do not wish to deprive the natives of the right to vote, there is no doubt that a large number of them incapable of using the franchise. As regards the Chinese and Japanese, they are, of course, not citizens and could not vote. These things, however, have to be determined when we find out whether there is any chance of our offer to Uncle Sam being accepted."

and out whether there is any chance of our offer to Uncle Sam being accepted."

Commissioner W. R. Castle said: "The foreign population, including Americans, Germans, Fortuguese, French and a number of other nationalities, are practically unanimous in their approval of the overthrow of the Hawaiian monarchy and in the belief that annexation of the United States is the only remedy for anarchy and bad government. There are some English, not a very large number, however, who believe the Queen should be dethroned, but they are desirous that the young Princess Kaiulani, now in England, should take the throne and the government. should take the throne and the government go on under her. Of course the result of this would be to make the islands practically an English colony. The islands have been made what they are, first by the civilization taught by the American missionaries, which provided for Hawaii a recognized place among the nations of the earth. If it had not been for the civilization so taught Hawaii would have long since become an appendage to ome European power.

'The Hawaiians are almost unanimously against annexation, but they are to-day less than half the population of the country. They are also opposed to any form of government than hair the population of the country. Lucy are also opposed to any form of government that will give the foreigners any voice in the government. The natives were equally opposed to the treaty of reciprocity in 1876, but within the past three years they found out what was meant and the natives were in

"As I was coming away from Honolulu, a number of natives with whom I am ac-quainted asked about our missions and then I referred to the condition of feeling after the assage of the reciprocity treaty. It was adlives would be the same after they had earned the real significance of annexation. Entirely unknown to the provisional government or any of its committees, the better class of natives bogan to circulate petitions to President Harrison asking for annexation. The time was too short for much to be done, but just as we left two or three of these petitions were thrown aboard, containing over 60 names, all of them native Hawaiians. Some natives of high standing and integrity penly favored annexation. They believe it leans good government and general pros perity. One very intelligent native, F. Pahiai, says: 'The day has gone by in Hawaii for Hawaiians. In the future Hawaiians only will prosper and do well who will earn a lving by their own exertions and personal ntegrity.

"Was there any feeling among the people about the landing of the sailors and marine from the Boston?" "There was none. The landing of the sailors and marines was done at the request of the American Minister, who confined himof the American Minister, who confined thim-self strictly within his powers. The reason they were landed was because there were threats of bloodshed, incendiarism and vio-lence, and a great many residents, not only Americans, but others, begged the com-mittee as a matter of safety, to make the application to the American Minister. A let-ter was written setting forth the situation and expressing the fear of the committee that there was danger of destruction of prop-erty and violence. They requested that troops be landed for the protection of life and property.

DOMINION OF THE PACIFIC. IMPORTANCE OF THE CONTROL OF HAWAII

AMERICAN INTERESTS. WILMINGTON, Del., Feb. 2.—Hon. George L. Estes, who was American Commissioner to Samoa during the investigation in 1886, and who was subsequently a member of the commission to Berlin for the government of Samoa, in an interview in regard to the Hawaiian annexation question, said: "The present crisis in Hawaii is no surprise to me nor can it be to envore who has me, nor can it be to anyone who has kept the run of events through the last few years. We have hitherto proceeded upon the theory of maintaining the neutrality of the islands and their independence and have time and time again asserted that we would not permit any European nation to annex or control the islands. The Secretaries of State without exception or distinction of party, have recognized the imtaries of State without exception or dis-tinction of party, have recognized the im-portance of the group to our commercial interests and other powers have been warned off in terms that admitted of no misunder standing.

"At the same time our Government has established for itself a rule of what we call non-intervention in the affairs of other nations which is, however, talked about and asserted with most vehemence by thos and asserted with most vehemence by those who understood it least. I always believed that the real basis of our doctrine of non-intervention would not interfere with our taking whatever steps were necessary to protect our interests and assert our suppremacy in the two great neutral groups of the Pactine—Hawaii and Samoa.

the Pactine—Hawaii and Samoa.

"The hesitation about the acquisition of Hawaii has grown out of the fact that the islands do not reach our territory. Probably many of those who are horrified at the suggestion of our incorporating Hawaii into our wn territory do not realize the fact that the Alaska purchase included a group of islands running out into the Pacific 20 deg. longitude farther than the Sandwich Islands, and 10 deg. further west than Samoa. We did not hesitate to purchase Louisiana and Alaska, or to annex the Republic of Texas, or to acquire California by conquest. Honolulu is nearer to Washington than Alaska, and vastly nearer than California at the time it was incorporated in the Union.

"The necessities of modern commerce require adequate coaling stations in the Pacific. quire adequate coaling stations in the Pacific, both for our steam naval vessels, which are helpless without coal, and also as stations for repairs and supplies for our commercial marine and for places of refuge in case of danger. We have had a very striking illustration of the necessity of coaling stations for the navy at the time of the flurry in Samoa, early in 1889. With Hawali as American territory and with the rights which we already possess in Samoa, and with the new chance which we nope to see given to American shipping interests under Democratic rule, we would have literally what Mr. Biaine fitly termed 'the Key to the maritime dominion of the Pacific.''

BRITISH INTERFERENCE.

HOW IT WILL BE MET BY AMERICANS IF AT-

New York, Feb. 2.—Col. Lathrop L. Bul-ock of California, who has long been identi-ed with large financial interests on the acide Coast and who at various times has represented those interests in Hawaii, says that his opinion is that the Americans in Honolulu would resist with arms any attempt of the British to land troops at Honolulu. "I know the temperament of our people out there too well to admit of any doubt as to what course they will pursue if the British attempt high-handed work. I call them our people because they are they Americans through and through.

The 2,000 Americans at Honolulu are patriotic to a degree which people at home do not fully realize. Shut off as they are by a stretch of 2,000 miles from their native ountry, they have been welded together Co-operation they have found to a certain ex-tent necessary in view of the constant en-croachments of British agents. I know now that not only are our people down in Hawaii ready to hold the islands, but that if need be, there are plenty of supplies and equipments ready in San Francisco for shipment to them should our government delay in taking a "Delay in the taking advantage of the op-portunity now offered to the flag to acquire new territory will prove disastrous. Any-body who has watched British methods in body who has watched British methods in the Pacific can appreciate how the Americans in Honolulu must feel over the delay by their Government. Depend on it, just as soon as a British feet rearnes Honolulu, and I understand British warsh ips are now hurrying thither from all points of the Pacific, that the fleet will attempt to land men under some pretext or other. The British have done this thing before, and they understand better than any one else how to find an excuse for disembarking on foreign soil.

"The trouble will come when such an at-

"The trouble will come when such an attempt is made. The provisional government, capable as I believe it to be to maintain complete sway on the Island, will resent as an invasion the appearance or British troops in the streets of Honclulu. Many of the Americans in the Hawaiian capital are old Californians and Western frontiersmen. Many of them are now wealthy and live in comfort, but the old fighting spirit is there, and the ability to act quickly and effectively is as strong as ever."

Col. Bullock says that Hawaii has practically been under American control for the last fifteen years. The late King was heavily inst inteen years. The late king was heavily in debt to several Californians, as was also the recent government. The natural condition of affairs led to the assumption of control by the real rulers of the islands. "When this condition is thoroughly understood," he said, "it will be seen that British interference at Honolulu is almost as flagrant as British interference in California."

sickening spectacle to the end with single expression of pity or regret. If the crime was unparalleled the punishment meted out was without a precedent. Yet men of good standing, and even women, watched his sufferings and death with every manifestation of satisfaction and delight. Every detail of the programme had been carefully planned beforehand, and was carried out in an orderly and skillful manner. Every saloon in the ful manner. Every saloon in the city closed its doars at the request of the Mayor, until the execution was concluded, speeches were made, and when all was ended the spectators quietly and peaceably departed to their homes. The negroes here universally denounced the crime as strongly as their white brethren, and many were willing spectators, and even volunteered their services in earrying out the death

MOB'S VENGEANCE FOR THE MURDER OF BAT-CLIFF AND SHORTRIDGE.

RICHMOND, Va., Feb. 2.-Particulars of the fazewell Court-house lynching are as follows: Two white men named Ratcliff and were waylaid Monday night and murdered. Ratcliff and Shortridge were country merchants who had come to Richland, the nearest railway station, for goods for their trade, They were supposed to have considerable money. When night approached, they tied their horses, built a fire and prepared to spend the night in their wagons. Yesterday morning their dead bodies were discovered. morning their dead bodies were discovered, each in a pool of blood. Suspicion pointed to four negroes as being the murderers. A crowd immediately gathered and searching parties were sent out. The first of the quartetts arrested was Jerry Brown, and after satisfactory witesnes as to miguit had been obtained, a rop was placed about his neck and he was soon dangling from the limb of a tree. Later in the day the other three, Spencer Branch, John Johnson and Sam Ellerson, wase arrested by the county officials and the officers started with their prisoners by a roundabout way for the court-house. In the meanwhile the news reached Buchan County, where the murdered men resided and a mob was immediately organized and started post hasts toward Richland to avenge the murder. This party upon reaching Richland and learning of the route taken by the officers with the three prisoners, pursued and overtook them, forcibly took charge of the three negroes and swung them up in short order. The mob is said to be pursuing two other negroes suspected of complicity in the crime. The greatest excitement prevails.

Vote of Confidence Passed by the Missouri Lower House,

FREELY FORGIVEN FOR HIS ACTION ON THE ANTI-OPTION BILL

Fogle's Mania for Introducing Resolu tions Troubles the Democrats-Protect ing Workingmen in the Right to Join Laber Unions-Ed Butler and the JEFFERSON CITY, Feb. 2 .- As soon as the opening prayer was given in the House to-day the anti-option fight, which took up nearly all the session yesterday, was re-opened by Davis of Henry County. His resolution was to the effect that though Senator Vest voted against the anti-option bill, the lower branch of the Missouri Assembly still preserved its confidence in him. Davis introduced the resolution on the theory that the row in the House resterday would be taken as a reflection on Vest, and some action was deemed advisable to remove the impression.

sseau of Dade County, a Republican, offered a substitute, setting forth that one of Missouri Senators had voted right and the other wrong and that the majority side of the House was ready to blow warm or cold as circumstances demanded.

The substitute was ruled out of order. The whole discussion terminated in the tion of a resolution endorsing Senator Vest in a general way without any reference to the anti-option bill.

LABOR UNIONS.

In the Senate the bill protecting workingan in their rights to join labor unions was sent to engrossment. This measure prosent to engrossment. This measure prohibits corporations and other employers from compelling their employes to sign agreements to keep clear of trades unlons.
Representative Hawkins' bill amending the dower law was passed. It provides that when the husband shall die in the State without any child or descendants capable of inheriting, his widow shall be entitled to all the real estate without regard to value during her lifetime which came to the husband by virtue of the mutual lapor of each during their marriage.

by virtue of the mutual labor of each during their marriage.

The amendment to the Stone pool law, permitting the sale of pools on Missouri race tracks during the progress of race meetings, was ordered to engrossment.

Senator Newberry's pet measure, giving juries the discretionary power in murder cases of sentencing prisoners to death or life imprisonment, was reported adversely by the Committee on Criminsits that all persons convicted of murder under first degree should receive the death penalty. The bill doing away with the fee system in Jackson County and substituting galaries for county officers, was passed to engrossment.

system in Jackson County and substituting salaries for county officers, was passed to engrossment.

There is a rapidly developing disposition among the members of the House to set down hard upon Fogle of Schuyler County, who assumes, on account of his long service, to lead the Democratic majority. Fogle has a sort of a mania for introducing resolutions on Federal matters and every time he lets loose in this regard a long-winded debate follows and winds up in the accomplishment of nothing. Yesterday morning he had another one of his "resolution humors." as Representative Jim Moore put it, and he let fire a resolution indorsing the stand taken by Senator Vest on the anti-option bill. The Democrats in the House were surprised, particularly in view of the fact that with had few exceptions they adopted a resolution may ten days ago indorsing the Hatch bill. Capt. Dick Collins of Wayne, who has more influence in the House than Fogle, did not know what to do for awhile. He concluded that a bad break had been made by the leader in presenting such a resolution at such a time. When amendments were tacked on, including the names of Senator Cockrell, who voted for the bill, and Hatch, the author of the measure, the ridiculousness of the situation was made more manifest.

Two hours were consumed in debate before the resolution was voted down. The next time Fogle opens up with resolutions of this lind he will, if the present sentiment holds, be promptly squelched.

Col. Ed Butler, as everybody up here calls him, is in the city as he says to look into the underground wire bill and the 25 per cent limitation repeal act. Both of these bills are of much consequence to St. Louis, and Col. Butler says he wants to know all about both bills. He took a room at the City Hotel adjoining that occupied by Peter R. Morrissey, his Senatorial protege, and to the surprise of a number of the St. Louis people here, wore in his coat lapel a Bernheimer button.

"What are you doing with that button?" asked Street Commissioner Murphy, who is

St. Louis people here, wore in his coat lapel a Bernheimer button.

"What are you doing with that button?" asked Street Commissioner Murphy, who is here in connection with the bill to repeal the clause in the city charter bearing on the costs of street improvements.

"A man dared me to wear it," he said, "and I never take a dare. It is a pretty button and I am fond of pretty things," "Who is going to be nominated by the Democrats?" asked Senator Lyman of Kansas City, who was standing close by at the time.

"Well, that's hard to tell," he said. "We are all at sea and won't know much until after the primaries are over. But the man who gets the nomination will be the next Mayor of the city." Here the blacksmith-politician winked his right eye, set up the drinks for the crowd and remarked that he was getting tired of politics. This announcement was regarded as rather funny by the Kansas City contingent present, and there was a big laugh all around.

Chairman Paul Moore managing its deliberations.

It was agreed to make a favorable report on the bill presented to the Assembly by the Pharmaceutical. Association of the State, which compels pharmacists to register every year. There are other provisions in the bill which the pharmacists declare are necessary to the general health and welfare of the people of the State. The same committee took up the fitteen fish and game protection bills and chairman Moore was empowered to prepare a substitute, the measure to provide for the rigid protection of fish and game by making the penalties as severe as possible. Such legislation is considered very necessary, as the fish in the Osage, Current, Black and other streams in the State bave nearly all been destroyed by dynamite used by persons interested in getting fish to sell.

QUARKELING KANSAS CITYANS.

The Kansas City delegation is liable to have a fight among its members before it gets through with the bills introduced by Senator Dick Love of Independence and others to do away with the fee system in Jackson County and pay the county officers salaries. Lobby influences are hard at work on both sides of the bill, and feeling on the subject runs high. Senator Love, but is opposed to the more sweeping measure proposed by the Kansas City Bar Association, and four of the six members of the Lower House think the same way. The fee bills are strongly supported by Representative Millman of Kansas City, and he has lad more than one war of words with the lobby-ist on account of his position. The so-called "push" element of the Jackson County Democracy, confined to Kansas City, does not want the fee system abolished and hopes to head off Senator Love and his reform movement.

ANTI-OPTION BILL

Washington, D. C., Feb. 3,—The anti-option bill with Senate amendments was laid over before the House, Mr. Hatch (Dem., Mo.) moving that the House non coneur in the amendments and agree to the request of the Senate for a conference.

Mr. Bynum (Dem., Ind.) raised the point of order that the amendments must be considered in committee of the whole.

The House discussed this point for a time and the Speaker then reserved his decision until to-morrow.

and the Speaker then reserved his decision until to-morrow.

Mr. Catchings, from the Rules Committee, then reported a special order for the bank circulation bill (Andrews-Cate silver repeal) giving notice that he would call it up Feb. 5.

Mr. Cummings of New York then introduced a bill to provide for and facilitate a commercial and political union between the United States of America andt the Dominion of Canada. The consideration of the sundry civil appropriation bill was then resumed.

The Senate at 1 p. m., on metion of Mr. Sherman (Rep.) of Ohio, went into executive session.

It is learned that the Senate went into executive session for the purpose of discussing the French and Swedish extradition treaties. Incidentally the Hawaii matter came up and was debated to some extent. There is an almost unanimous feeling in favor of American interference, but a difference of opinion as to whether annexation or protectorate is best.

John Powelczak Confesses That Macie Kowalewski Did Not Shoot Him.

HOW HE CAME TO CHARGE KOWALEW SKI WITH THE CRIME.

An Ante-Mortem Statement Made to Fr Stanowski at the City Hospital-Pow elczak Does Not Know Who His As sailant Was-Charged With Embezzle ment-Police News.

John Powelczak, who lies dying at the City Hospital from the effects of a bullet wound in the head received in a mysterious manner in the Ashley building, Sunday evening, made an ante-mortem statement of the shooting to is confessor, Fr. Urban Stanowski, which clears Maciej Kowalewski, at present held by the police under suspicion of having committed the murner. Powelczak was shot the rookery by an unknown assassin. The olice reached the place soon after the shooting and arrested Kowalewski, understanding When Fr. Stanowski read of the affair in night's Post-Disparch he at the hospital to see called wounded man. After hearing his confession the priest asked him to make an ante-mortem statement about the murder for the public. The wounded man said that he was shot by an unknown assassin on coming into the corridor. While he was lying on the floor Kowalewski came out of a room and seeing him ran in and told his wife that a man had been shot. When the police came, not understanding them, he answered "yes" to everything they asked. He stated positively that Kanalesk could not have been the man who fired the shot, and further that there was no trouble between them. It develops that one of the questions th police asked the wounded man was whether Kowalewski had shot him and in his ignorance of the language he answered "Yes."

Fr. Stanowski visited the alleged murderer at the jail and found him in a dreadful state of trepidation. He is a Russian and understands no English. He imagines that, though innocent, he will be hauged or meet a fate worse than Siberlan exile. He protested his innocence to the priest. Chief Harrigan was notified by the priest of the statements made to him by the wounded man, but said he could not release Kowalewski, as a warrant had been sworn out and he would have to undergo a preout and he would have to undergo a pre-liminary hearing.

The priest will have the wounded man's statement taken by a notary and make an application for bail.

Neither of the men are Poles. Kowalewski is a Russian and Poweiczak is a Slavonian and neither speaks any language but his own.

sity of the Hour. NEW YORK, Feb. 2.-The following interview is sent out by the United Press Association, which authorizes its use and claims that it is authentic: "To repeal the Sherman Silver act is the great necessity of the hour." So spoke President-elect Cleveland to a press representative to-day. "While I am naturally averse to being interviewed," Mr. Cleveland continued. "my conviction on this subject is so deep and my feelings concernng it are so strong that I am willing you should quote what I say. Possibly this direct and authorized expression from me will encourage our Republican friends in Congress to stand out against repeal, but I hope not. rhis is not a party question and should be considered from the standpoint of the comgood and not from that of party advantage. Continuance of the silver purchasing operation made mandatory by the Sherman law is a menace to the business and financial interests of the country. I am not yet without hope that this law will be repealed by the present Congress. Whatever influence I have is being exerted to that end. The date at which the repeal should become operative is immaterial save that the sooner the better. I am not yet ready to express an opinion as to what should be done in case the present Congress fails to repeal the Sherman law. I am unwilling to believe that motives arising from the fancied possibility of party advantuge will be permitted to prevent re peal during the term of this Congress."

When you go to Washington next month, Mr. Cleveland." suggested the reporter, HELD HIGH REVEL. Cold, Snow, Sleet, Rain, Thunder and Lightning Combine.

Last night was a meteorological curiosity of bad weather save extreme heat seem to to have faithfully kept it. Cold. snow. sleet, rain, thunder and lightning have made a tryst to meet in this city and to have faithfully kept it. Cold, snow, sleet, rain, thunder and lightining were the characteristics of the day and night. During the morning of yesterday the cutting sleet blew so flercely in the faces of those exposed to it that no one who was not obliged to do so cared to brave the fury of the storm. The grip and motormen of the street-car lines had a peculiarly hard experience. Toward evening the thermometer fell rapidly, the sidewalks became coated with ite, rendering pedestrianism both difficult and dangerous, and a severe cold snap seemed to be about to commence. But shortly after nightfall a change occurred. The mercury rose, the snow changed to a fine sleet, and later into a driving rain. About 9 o'clock a most unusual phenomenon made itself manifest. Lightning flashes were seen in the sky, accompanied by rolling thunder. About the same time the rain changed again to sleet and afterwards to snow. A thunderstorm in February when snow is falling and the ground is covered with a frozen crust is an almost unprecedented event. The street car lines, especially those operated by electricity, were seriously hampered by the unusual meteorological conditions, and this morning were much delayed. The snow lay deep on the tracks, and had to be removed with plows and sait. The rain freezing on the wires covered them with an icy mail, and it was in many cases necessary to break the envelope before the cars could proceed. Behind each trolley wheel ran a line of flashing blue sparks, and the wheels snapped and shone as they revoived. Where sait had been used on the tracks the crossings were turned into slushy quaemires, most unpleasant to cross. So many different kinds of bad weather have seldom been seen within the period of twenty-four hours.

The conditions that led to the remarkable weather of yesterday and last night were very peculiar. The temperature north, west and east was very low, the zero mark being frequently passed. St. Louis, however, was at the apex of a wedge servations have shown that they occur when the temperature has risen and is about to fall, occupying the top of a warm wave between two cold waves. Last night's thunderstorm, however, occurred when the thermometer was near its lowest. No similar instance is known. Nearly all the trains came in late, covered with sleet and lee. The whole country, according to the engineers, is covered with sleet and snow even worse than is St. Louis. The railroads are losing time and money. On almost every line running into St. Louis the freight trains are doing little better. Every rail connected with this city is covered with lice for miles. The engines cannot get a "grip" and running is hard, even in the best places. The railroad peeple unite in the opinion that the ice has been

When the Red Express of the J. S. E. road came in this morning it was an hour and thirty minutes late. All the coaches were incrusted with ice and sleet. The engineer said: "The rails are awful. Stone's Wire Bill Is in G

ED BUTLER AT THE CAPITAL WORK

He Uses the Bill for a Municipal St of Conduits to Induce the Legislare Relegate the Matter to the Col. Baker's Influence Manifest

A very strong and active body of opp hting the conduit bill of Ser fighting the conduit bill of Senar E. ne at Jefferson City, and the procet passage is by no means so brit as for its passage is by no means so br it was two weeks ago, before Col. Baker of the Western Union Telegra and Geo. P. Dumont of the Bell Tel spent two days in Jefferson City, the legislators. Whateve they urt the bill, yet it is difficult one's finger on the wound.

One way in which this is shown rns and Villages towards the has had the bill in chap now ttitude of the Senate Committee three weeks and has not consided it. Last week Chairman Arthur Lym set Thursday as the day upon which it is to be considered. The date was well u erstood and not only by the committee itsel but by als of the wire companie Stone and Senator Cochran of St. J.ph got their arguments. Senator tended to go over the who ground covered by the bill in the committee, and was preced for a thorough argument with the wyers and officials of the companies whom expected to be present. Senator Cochran s to speak in favor of the bill also, and blad especially approximately assert the second of th cially prepared an argument meet the it made again and agai among the statement made again and agai among the legislators at the capital that there was a scheme hid in belil by which President Charles Sure's conduit company would profit. Of case it is easy enough to show that this is no irue, but the loby working for the companies has rejeated the charge again and sain till it has had its effect. Senator Coorin intimated to-day that this story was big circulated Jefferson City an had been ed against the bill in sug cautious way that its friends had not beer sole to deny it till the committee met. Ate that his intention was to show that y the laws of Missouri the conduit compa would have no right whatever to compe he wire com-panies to use its duct if the senate bill passed, and that they would be subject in anning their St. Louis conduits only to thapproval of the Board of Public Improvemes. TO PLEASE COL. B.ER. But all these plans come toaught. Chairman Lynam, like a good miy other mem-bers of the Senate, would nch rather please Supt. Baker of the Westernalon than offend him. The chairman krw that all the ads of the bill were rear for the meeting of this committee and anxus to push the il a peg further on its wa yet when Col Baker telegraphed to Senar McGinnis about on asking him to secur a postponement

Baker telegraphed to senar accimins about noon asking him to secur a postponement of the hearing, the Chaman assented to the proposition wit alacrity that was most disappointing the friends of the measure. It is to be figured that col. Baker chuckled a little win he got the reassuring reply to his tegram. Senator stone went to Chairma Lynam, when he heard of the telegram, o protest mildly against the readiness of teommittee to do what the companies whed without consultation with the bill's aspicuous friends, but he did not move the heast City Senator. A few minutes afterward, in a conversation with a Post-Dispari reporter, the Chairman intimated in Senator Stone wanted to open the argument of the bill and to date it after the representates of the companies had spoken befire he committee. He didn't intend to let the athor of the bill do this. He was going o ensider the bill next Thursday and intended be invite everybody concerned to the meetig. They would all be heard once and ten he committee would report the bill favorblyor unfavorably.

Thursday and inteneed b invite everybody concerned to the metig. They would all be heard once and then he committee would report the bill favorblyor unfavorably. Senator Lynam's jonewas impatient and one that indicated b dsposition whatever to help Senator Stoe & his bill. Senator Stone regards him is one of those who have not made up their mids, but those who know the chairmalmon intimately say that his vote will be hetlie to the bill when it gets that far.

ED BUILE BEGINS-WORK.

It is somewhat figular that the popular demand for the iwnership of the conduit systems by St. Log is being used in Jefferson City against b Stone bill, yet that is being done. Ed lutier spent yesterday in the capital seeinghe St. Louis Senators and Representatives ad priming them with the new argument. b was asked, as he ate dinner in the Madiss House:

"What is your bjection to the bill?"

"It ought to bknecked out so St. Louis can own its ownonduits."

"Well, it lookthat way to me; what do you think?" all the frank old lobbyist allowed a few winkles, which did service for a smile, to appar on his face.

To-day we wihear from Senators and representatives ake the argument that if the Stone billpasses it will prevent the city from owning it own conduits and that St. Louis is anxiss to go into the conduit business at obe. Men who haven't given much thought b the subject readily fall in with the arghent, and that all counts against the ill. As an instance of the impression hade by this sort of unscruptions gument, a little talk Street dommissioner. J. Murphy had yesterday afternoon wit Rolla Wells, President of the Fair Associath, in the Madison House may be quoted. Mells was in Jefferson City looking afternoon wit Rolla Wells, President of the Fair Associath, in the Madison House may be quoted. Jump out of the window without hurting himself."

USING GERNEZ NOW.

Representative John A. Gernes saw Ed Butler yesterday, and as a consequence he will introduce this week and push that bill of his providing for the building by St. Louis of a conduit system. Representative Gernez is a lawyer, and he has shown in discussion about the bill that he understood that the city had no legal right to issue bonds or to suarantee the interest on the bonds to a company that undertook the building of the conduit, yet he intends, he said yesterday afternoon, to put this bond provision into this bill. The friends of the Stone bill understand quite plainly that this bill is meant to confuse the St. Louis conduit situation still more to the eye of the conscientious legislator and to persuade him that the people of the city themselves ought to be allowed to decide the differences of opinion which he has been taught to believe exist.

One Hundred and Forty-nine Electric

Lights Put Out. The sleet storm of last night and the gangs f men out to-day with rubber overcoats and climbing irons combined to make a very strong argument in favor of putting the electric wires under ground. These from the telephone and light works, had their hands tric light works, had their hands full, and every time they climbed a pole they did it at the risk of their lives. It was no uncommon sight to-day to see a man hanging to a cross arm by one leg and braced to the next one above with a stout leather belt and an iron hook.

How many wires were down and how far business was interrupted all around by the sleet is impossible to tell, but according to the police reports received up to noon to-day there were 149 street electric lights which were out of order, a number far exceeding the usual average. These failures of the lamps were due mostly to the fact that the wires being upon poles and exposed to the heavy sleet, were naturally weighed down until they touched another wire which effectively extinguished the lamp for that night. Supt. A. J. O'Reilly of the City Lighting bepartment said that there was a good deal of trouble everywhere and that some of his inspectors were busy almost all night sending word around to the various companies to fix their wires.

Supt. O'Reilly also stated that the small telephone wires suffered a good deal, but in those cases the repairs were made immediately and no record kept of them.

A BLOW AT THE RAILROADS. The Miller Bill to Be Presented in the General Assembly. A bill has been introduced in the State Legslature by Representative John F. Miller of Lafayette County, which, if it becomes a aw, will strike a heavy blow at the Missouri Pacific and other railroads of the State. The bill is intended to prevent railroad companies from owning stock in companies engaged in dealing in lumber, grain, merchandise, coal, coal mines or other minerals. It also prohibits any manager, director or agent of companies engaged in business of the character specified from serving as director, trustee or representative of any railroad. No person or corporation is to be allowed to any railroad for profits arising from the purchase or sale of any of the commodities mentioned. No corporation is to be allowed to issue its stock to any railroad company, and contracts made in violation of the law are to be regarded as null and void, and payment for goods so delivered cannot be enforced. For violating any section of the bill a railroad is to be fined not less than $1,000 nor more than $5,000 for the the State. The bill is intended to tion of the bill a railroad is to be fined not less than $1,000 nor more than $5,000 for the first offense; for the second offense the penalty is to be doubled, and the third offense would work a forfeiture of the charter. Prosecuting attorneys are to be allowed one-fifth of all fines recovered. The effect of the bill would be to prevent railroads from owning. would be to prevent railroads from owning between timber lands and coal mines, and to confine them exclusively to the business of common carriers.

The reason for all this was ill health, caused by an insidious disease, originating from exposure while on duty. "It was caused by neglecting a severe case of catarrh of the head. My appetite and digestion were very poor—weak and variable, and when I ate the food caused me much misery. Sold for $180,000.

The principal transaction in suburban properties was the sale by E. S. Guignon & Bro. of the 51-acre track of land on Page avenue, at the northwest corner of Isadora avenue, about two blocks west of the St. Louis & Suburban Electric Line, in the Watson Fruit Hill subdivision. This property, owned by E. S. Guignon, was sold for $180, 000 to Messrs. W. Sommerville, B. F. Hobert, Thos. S. Foster, Thos. H. Stockton and T. C. Johnson, a syndicate for whom Guignon & Bro. will act as agents in developing the property with streets and alleys and improving it with dwelling houses, Mr. E. S. Guignon says he paid about $125,000 for this land early last fail. In September. 1891, it was owned by the Catholic Orphan Board, who sold it to Messrs. Meyer, Bouite and Gummersbach for $76,000, and they sold it to Mr. Guignon.

Little Rock, Ark., has occasioned considerable interest in St. Louis, on account of the fact that Horace G. concern was recently saved from a run that would have closed its doors by the timely assistance of the National Bank of Commerce of St. Louis.

The Board of Directors of the Little Rock banking concern met last night and decided not to resume business this morning. The cause of this action was that Logan H. Roots, who had been recently elected president of the bank, received large quantities of paper bearing the bank's indorsement of which there was no record. As no one connected with the concern could give any account of these transactions and there was no way of ascertaining how much of such paper was still out the cern could give any account of these transactions and there was no way of ascertaining how much of such paper was still out the President deemed it for the best interest of all parties to shut down. Investigation showed that Horace G. Allis, who was President for three years, had been borrowing large sums of money on paper bearing the indorsement of the bank. Mr. Allis, who is said to owe the bank
two, oo, retired from its presidency at the last annual meeting, it being given out as a reason at the time that he intended to devote all his time to the management of the electric street railroad of which he was the owner. Nick Kupierle was elected in his place but Mr. Kupferle resigned on the 29d of last month. Rumors that the bank was in straits were circulated at that time and a run on it took place, brought on by the demand of the Third National Bank of St. Louis for the payment of a loan. The bank's sus-

St. Louis, which institution supplied them with $50,000. It only delayed the failure, however.

Ex-President Allis is a native of Little Rock. His first prominence was gained as the head of the Fort smith Railroad. Giving up that employment he came to St. Louis and became Comptroller of the St. Louis and became Comptroller of the St. Louis and became Comptroller of the St. Louis southwestern Railroad Co., now known as the Cotton Belt Route. He was intimately associated with Col. Samuel W. Fordyce, President of the road, and enjoyed his entire confidence. He resigned, went back to Little Rock, and returning became cashier of the Merchants' National Bank of this city. He held that position only a short' time and going back to Little Rock secured a controlling interest in the First National Bank and became its President. He angaged in many speculative enterprises and believed that he would soon become a millionaire. He bought real estate right and left and felts os ure of his financial standing that he contracted obligations he was unable to meet. Then followed his downfail.

Cashier Van Blancom of the National Bank of Commerce says that he got excellent security for the $50,000 he advanced two weeks ago and feels perfectly easy about that transaction, at the time he thought the failure of the bank would seriously involve many other banking institutions of Arkansas, but the fear of a general crash is no longer test. Allis has turned over all his project the concern. "There will not be a greater of him financially," and a banday. At one time he was the owner Little Rock Gazette, but that also passed from his control. The would have wrecked a hard.

ne gave out the information that the business of the concern was increasing and that in a short time the bank would be as strong as it ever was. The directory ordered an assessment of 60 per cent on the stock, and none, of the stockholders complained. A year ago the stock was worth 165. Those who held stock were willing to pay their assessment, believing that with the bank once again on a solid foundation, their stock would be worth all the way from 175 to 190. bank once again on a solid foundation, their stock would be worth all the way from 175 to 190.

The report is this morning that the increased business of the bank after Col. Roots had taken charge was forced through promises of some of the directors who induced persons to deposit their money upon a guarantee that no matter what might happen they would be informed in time to permit them to protect themselves against any loss. Such depositors were notified yesterday of the condition of the bank, and these debts of honor were promptly discharged. There is one man who is absent from the city who had $12,000 on deposit, placed there on the promise that he should not lose it in case of the bank's failure. It is believed that this money has been laid aside for him and that he will get it on his return to the city.

It is claimed that the deposits in the bank which remain unpaid, consist of $80,000 in Individual and bank deposits, and about $60,000 of Government deposits, the latter of which is secured by $75,000 of United States bonds.

Two weeks ago the bank had on deposit $85,000. Within that time there has been withdrawn about $200,000. Neither the President nor a single member of the Board of Directors or any person connected with the bank knows the amount of the liabilities. Paper is coming in with the indorsement of H. G.

Allis as President of the bank of which there is no record in the bank. Litigation will be required to settle these claims.

Ground Hog Day. H. A. Heath, editor of the Kansas

published at Topeka, is a believer to a certain extent in the ground hog. In speaking at the Lacleie Hotel this morning of the ground hog and his day he said: "The Sunflower State has more ground hogs than any State in the Union, and I venture to say that many of the animals are hunting for their shadows to-day. There are quite a number of people of our State who put implicit confience in the groundhog tradition and watch the weather on ground hog day and look forward to it with the same interest that children do Christmas. They firmly believe that if the old hog sees his shadow to-day we shall have six weeks more of winter, but if he does not, we are sure to have an early spring. I am six weeks more of winter, but if he does not, we are sure to have an early spring. I am inclined to think that the mascot of the woods falled to see his shadow to-day and I am looking forward to an early spring."

Patrick Sweeney of Reynolds County, Mo, who is stopping at Hurst's is a firm believer in the ground hog: "I have been watching his actions ever since I was 7 years of age, and I am thoroughly convinced that he is more reliable than the Weather Bureau, It is all a wrong impression about his honor coming out just once on Feb. 2; he comes out at 110 'clock in the morning and remains out until about 4:30 o'clock in the afternoon."

HANDS OFF.

The truth about the Hawaiian situation is likely to be obscured by a cloud of jingo natriotism invoked by a gang of advenurers aided by the explosions of noisy politicians.

The facts are that the Islands have been acquired" as private property by a few score American and English planters and their dependents, who number in all not more than 3,000. These foreigners also secured control of the Government few years ago and dictated a enstitution which suited their own purposes. Under the constitution the natives were excluded from all participation in political affairs, and are no more considered politically than so many black Africans in their own forests. They are used by the owners of the land along with some 20,000 Chinese coolies as common laborers under the sugar growers and other foreign-born citizens. They have nothing whatever to say in the land of their forefathers, but are as helpless as are the red Indians of America before the white men. In short, the government is constituted solely in the interest of the foreign contingent. It is a plutocracy pure and simple.

It appears from the information so far received that the Queen sought to break down the ruinous system and restore the natives to their rights. It may be that British suggestions stiffened her courage, but there seems to be no doubt that her sympathies are enlisted for her Polynesian subjects, and the attempt to overthrow the plutocratic constitution was really a patriotic effort in behalf of popular government. She has the personal rights of her people at heart rather than the property rights of the foreigners who own the lands, which they have acquired as lands are usually got from inferior races, by treachery and force. So far from playing the tyrant, Queen Liliuokalani may be acting for the best interests of the whole people.

It would be a crime for our government to interfere in behalf of the American-born citizens of the little kingdom. These men have no interest in the islands except as in place to plunder. The natives have some rights in the premises, and it is by no means certain that their rights are not of a higher order and more worthy of respect than those of Claus Spreckels and his friends. We cannot assimilate the naives. To incorporate the islands and grant them privileges as States would simply be to add another rotten borough to the Union and strengthen the forces of plutocracy, which are already too strong Such a policy would be not only a crime against the Polynesians, it would be a blunder which would involve our own people in disaster. Conceding, however-what is by no means certain-that it is not good policy to permit any European power to annex the islands or establish a protectorate, we can extend the Monroe doctrine to cover the case and give notice to all the world. That doctrine in the past has been sufficient of itself to guarantee the American against the aggress England and other nations and would no doubt be effective now. Then let the Hawaiians work out their own salvation as other peoples have done and let Spreckels and his partners take care of

EMPLOYERS' LIABILITY LAWS.

We print to-day the statutes by which a number of our sister States, North and South. East and West, have corrected the injustice of the old common law rule exempting employers ary is $4,000,000 more than its income. from liability for injuries sustained by their workmen through the negligence or incapacity of their fellow-workmen.

The reason of that old rule, as applied to farm work or shop work in the small industrial establishments of a former generation, utterly fails when applied to the railroads and other immense industrial plants of the present day, with their varied and widely separated departments of service. Men employed to work in the same shop, like men employed in rowing the same boat or in painting the cornices of a tall building from the same swinging ladder, can estimate the ordinary dangers of their occupation and the extent to which they can depend on each other's care and skill for safety. They can refuse to work with a fellowworkman who is dangerously negligent or incompetent. They can refuse to work with or in the vicinity of mach inery known to be in a dangerous policy It was, therefore, the condition of the old common law to hold them dependent upon and responsible to each other for safety from accidents caused by carelessness of fellow workmen. Hence the theory that workmen assume all of the risks incidental to their employment; that they fix their wages at a rate which will compensate them for assuming these risks and must, therefore, seek compensation for injuries not from the employer, but from the fellow-workman whose negligence caused the injuries. Now, this theory is so manifestly and so utterly at variance with the conditions of modern railroad service that Federal and State courts have again and again denied with the reason or the policy of the common law rule. They have stretched their authority to avoid appli tion of the fellow-servant doctrines that were not only unjust to railroad employ es, but against public policy and calculated to exempt railroad con all care for the limbs or lives of their em

Alabama copied the English "Statute of Labor and Laborers, ' enacted by the British Parliament in 1880. Other States enacted statutes variously modifying the fellow-servant rule of the common law as applied to railroad service and very properly guarded the modifica tion by annulling as immoral and against public policy all contract stipulations by which a railroad employe may be required to bind himself not to claim damages for injuries caused by the negligence of any other employe of the railroad.

But these States were not ruled by Bill Phelps and Sam Priest or other railroad lobbyists. Here in Missouri we have been still disgraced by that sort of rule in our courts and in at least one branch of our State Legislature. Will the present General Assembly submit to that disgrace or will it modify that antiquated fellow-servant law in order that justice may be done be tween railroads and their employes?

AN ACT OF FRENZY.

The verdict which would most nearly fi the case of Henry Smith, the negro ravisher who was tortured and burned at Paris, Tex., yesterday, is that the act was committed by a community suffering from a fit of insanity. The deed merely proves that a crime of atrocious brutality may drive several thousand people to madness

No maudlin sentimentality need be wasted on the brute who was subjected to the extremities of physical torment. His punishment was horrible, but his crime was horrible. Both were marked by maniacal fiendishness. Calm reason views them with shuddering amazement, and can find no explanation save that of in sanity. The brutal passion of the crimina begot the brutal passion which rioted in his torment. His devilish crime aroused a spirit of vengeance, which was nurtured on thoughts of its atrocity into a mania that could find no satisfaction of remedy for brutal outrage except in an excess of retributive and warning cruelty. It must be borne in mind in judging this act that one of the controlling motives which led to it was an intense desire to find a form of punishment for a crime which would prevent the recurrence of another like it. The fact that the deed was shared by thousands of persons representing more than one community renders all talk of reason, law and civilization useless. The whole tendency of this mass of people was towards refinement and the upbuilding of law and order. Undoubtedly many who participated in that orgie of cruelty are men of tender sympathies, generous impulses and profound respect for law. The sudden reversal of this tendency and of these impulses by participation in a deed of irrational cruelty, defiant of all law and destructive of civilization, was an act of desperate frenzy for which the perpetrators cannot be held fully accountable. Censurable, therefore, as the event is, it nust be viewed more in sorrow than in anger and should be treated with a spirit of regretful admonition rather than of violent denunciation. Those who participated in it are to be condemned for yielding to the impulse of cruel vengeance, but they are also to be pitied for being made the victims of passionate resentment and its brutalizing action, to which they were prompted by horror and righteous indigna-

THE attempt made by the New York Legislature to regulate the coal traffic in that State by prescribing maximum rates of transportation and maximum prices charged by dealers is both irrational and unjust. The best and only effective regulator of prices is competition, and that is not possible where the whole output is owned and controlled by one company. All remedies so far proposed begin at the wrong end. Production should be laid open to competition in some way. After that is accomplished prices will not be too tion over an atrocious deed.

In voting against the anti-option bill, despite the resolution of the State Legislature in its favor, Senator Vest exercised the right sort of independence. He could not have voted for it without stultifying himself and acting as a mere puppet of the Legislature. If his course is not satisfacory to the people of his State they can refuse to indorse him when he seeks re-election. The chances are, however, that the people will think the more of him for his courage and will discover by that time that it was founded on wise convictions.

MINISTER STEVENS has been guilty of pernicious activity in the service of Claus Sprockles. Had he upset the Hawaiian monarchy and established the plutocracy last summer the scheme might have succeeded as the President was then suffering from acute patriotism induced by a political campaign. Now, however, it is too late. Our Government is no longer the lackey of the plutocrats.

IF THE water of St. Louis swarms with typhoid bacillus as experts state, why are we not all dying with typhoid fever? The eason, probably, is that the bacilli are harmless except when other conditions foster their destructive activity, which uggests that a little attention be bestowed upon the other conditions.

Human Nature Is Too Strong.

Thursday, Jan. 19.

From the Detroit Free Press. If President Harrison allows equitable co siderations their due weight in selecting a successor for the late Justice Lamar the po sition will go to a Democrat. Had the vacancy occurred before last fall's election there might have been a reasonable defense made for the naming of a Republican Judg by a Republican President, but under existing circumstances there is none. Justic cusable spirit of partisanship would name his successor from any other party. The people declared last fall in favor of a Democratic Administration, and President Harrison is morally bound by such declaration. dence against him, and the fact should no be lost sight of in connection with the nam ing of a new Associate Justice of the Supreme Bench.

Schools Board's Return to John K. Krump's Proceeding.

CHILDREN BEED NOT BE ADMITTED TO A WHITE SCHOOL

alled Against Their Presence That They Were Forced Out of a ochial School-Court News.

ttorney for the School Board, Mr. court to the writ of manda oan the Crump case. urn denies that any of the Crump hilre ever applied for add ools of the city and were re per states that there is no law with the an of Missouri making it the duty of the school pard to admit the Crump children to the wile schools as French Creoles or wh bloods part Indian, but that under sec. s of at. 1 of the Constitution of the State and udr sec. 8002 of the Revised Statutes of 8 the Board is only bound o ctolish and provide separats school fit the education of children of African decet and white or Caucasian children, and tatit is left under the law to the disthe Board to select into what free public chol it will admit a child of any other acthan the two above mentioned, namely neroes and Caucasians. It is also alleged he within the meaning of section s of articl lot the Constitution of the State, the Cruro hildren are of African descent. The rearriben goes on to state that in the fall of 189 Jhn K. Krump, Sr., the father of the childen applied to the Superintendent of Public schols and by misrepresentation of Public Schols and by misrepresentation succeeded injecting two of the children admitted to helarr Lane School. It then alleges that the children had been debarred from St. lidget's Parochial School because the were considered negroes, and when this children for the Carr. Lane School discreded this they raised such a racket that in he interests of discipline it was thought hit to place the children in another school. They were then transferred to the Hamiltoschool, where the same experience wastreated, and the children had to again be dibored to preserve discipline. This was ill lone by the superintendent and the board slaims that neither he nor Crump ever reprited the matter to the board, nor had the members any knowledge of these doins util after the sorvice of the alternative with dimandamus upon them. Finally, the redrn states that there is so much prejudic inthe minds of parents and children of the caucasian race in the city against of African decent in any degree, that it would be highly prejudicial to the public interest in the schools to permit the crump childre teattend the white schools. Besides, it a claimed the parents of the children titled the treatment of the family are negroes.

GOOD EXAMPLE.

What Was Accomplished by the Guthrie Convention.

WHAT COULD BE DONE BY A CONVEN-TION HELD IN ST. LOUIS.

sional Action as the Result of the Convention for Opening the Cherokee Strip-How the Influence of St. Louis for Opening the Entire Indian Territory Could Be Exerted.

the consideration of the bill for the purchase of the lands included within the Cherokes Strip is set for to-day in the Senate, and the belief is that it will become a law. The manner in which the bill has been pushed roves the value of convention work. While tlations have been in progress for a long ne, no particular interest was manifested in the matter by Congress, and there seemed little likelihood of the lands being opened during this session of Congress.

ONE CONVENTION'S WORK. Recognizing this fact, and being alive to the importance of immediate action, the cit-izens of Oklahoma called a convention to meet at Guthrie. Representatives from all parts of the Territory were present, and in-vitations were sent to various boards of trade, requesting their participation. These nvitations were very generally accepted and a fairly well attended convention assembled. be result was at once apparent. Activity ok the place of apathy. Congressmen who had previously been indifferent became earnest supporters of the measure, obstacles to the consideration of the bill were re-moved, and it is now practically certain that the lands will be opened for settlement in time for the immigrants to do their spring anting. Nor was this all that was acmilished by the convention.

AN IMPORTANT ADDITION influence it has secured the addition of an amendment providing for the purchase of the Tonkoway and Pawnee lands, which are adjacent to the Cherokee strip. These lands are as good as, if not better than, any in the Cherokee country. Negotiations have been pending for a year or two, and the Indians have agreed to sell at a certain price. But Congress let the matter lie, did nothing, and probably would have done nothing had members not been spurred into action by the pressure brought to bear by those interested in the Guthrie con-vention. It was urged that the conof the Treasury did not the requisite appropriation. Without any difficulty the consent of the Indians was obtained to deferment of payment until the required sum was paid into the Treasury by actual settlers, and this difficulty was thus removed. It is now more than likely that the Pawnee and Tonkoway lands will be opened to settlement during

NECESSITY FOR A CONVENTION. Such were the results accomplished by convention held in a small and almost unown town. The influence exerted by a known town. The influence exerted by a gathering of men from many States, representing large and varied interests, held in a city of the importance of St. Louis, would be immeasurably greater and much greater interests are at stake. The number of people who can find homes in the Cherokee Strip and adjacent lands is insignificant when compared with the tens of thousands who would rush into the rich country now owned by the five civilized tribes. Not only is the acreage far greater, but acre for acre the lands are very much more fertile and are capable of sustaining a very much denser population. Eastern Kansas has made astonishing advances, but in soll and climate is not nearly so highly favored as the eastern section of the indian Territory. The soil is richer, the climate milder and the water supply more abundant. Everything that can be raised in Kansas can be raised equally well or better in this section of the country, and in addition there are crops that can be successfully cultivated which Kansas cannot produce. The importance of thopening to St. Louis it would be difficult to exargerate. The trade of Kansas has had a great deal to do with building up the business of this city, but this trade has had to be shared with Chicago. Such a division would not be possible as regards the eastern half of the hadian Territory, as nearly all railroad lines would of necossity lead direct to this city. A convention held here would do more than anything else to hasten the eested result. gathering of men from many States, repre anything else to hasten the desired result, and would inaugurate for St. Louis a new era of prosperity.

of the Millionaire. EATTLE, Wash., Feb. 2.-The hearing of Mrs. Minnie Yesler on a charge of conspiracy ith Dr. Eugene Jordan and Dr. Martin Van Buren to destroy the last will of her husband, the piener millionaire, H. L. Yesler, Justice Court yesterday. Jordan Buren waived examination and if for trial in the Superior Court. gave A for trial in the Superior Court. Each was held in $5,000 on each of the two charges: forgery and conspiracy.

Mrs. Yesler's case occupied the entire day.

F. H. Peterson, a lawer, testified that he went to Yesler a month before his death at Mrs. Yesler's request and asked him to settle some property on her before his death. Yesler replied he had provided for her in a will.

S. L. Crawford testified that in 1889. Yesler showed him a portion of his will bequeathing a large amount of property to the city of Seattle, but Yesler became angry and tore the will up. He had a way of procrastinating that made it probable he never made a new will. Public interest is so great that the court adjourned to a larger hall. Sensational developments are expected, as it is openly asserted that Yesler was poisoned.

They caught three coons and Elkins claimed a share in the spoils because of the use of his dog. They agreed to call in ex' Squire Dumont as arbitrator. Dumont took the precaution to make each sign a bond to agree to his rulings, a frer which he laid aside two of the skins as his fee. Then he cut the tail from the third skin, divided the hide into equal parts, giving a piece to each of the four hunters, after which he handed the tail to Elkins as his share of the property belonging to the dog. This precipitated a fight. Elkins knocked Dumont down, and was himself knocked down by the hunters. Then Elkins' uncles, brothers and cousins took a hand and there was a free-for-all fight. While the hunters did not relish the decision of the Judge, they manfully stood by the court. No one was seriously hurt.

THE IRON TRADE.

No Improvement Noted in Prices of Fin ished Froduct.

CLEVELAND, O., Feb. 2.-The Iron Trade Review says: "For the week no sales of '93 ore have been made. Since the opening of the have been made. Since the topening of the year matters have not gone well with furnacemen, who are buyers of Lake Superior ores in a way to cause any haste in contracting for a year's supply of ore. The situation needs to clarify in raw iron and finished iron markets, before ore contracts will be thought of. In pig-iron the market is weaker than it was a week ago, regarded as almost impossible by furnacemen then. Valley makers of pig-iron have had offers made them in the past for the night that would have been regarded ridiculous two months ago. No improvement in prices of finished iron can be noted, but there is a better inquiry and for the later future prospects of good demand, particularly in structural iron.

NOW'S YOUR TIME! To See the Only McNichol.

One night I lately came to town
In rain exactly fit to drown—
The stars were hid, the wind was high,
But neither food or shelter nigh.
How bitterly I thought and fast—
Of all the chances in the past,
The chance to win and make a name,
All lost, and only I to blame. The thoughts I nourished will remain A long, long time to give me pain; My wasted youth, each vanished gift, And not a hand to give a lift. I gazed about in blank despair. And fortune seemed to lead me there, To Market and Eleventh streets, Where all the world one sees and meets,

I read a name endeared to all;
I knew I might in safety call;
McNichol never yet refused
To aid one fate has thus abused.
I straight way sought my mate for life,
A girl who soon became my wife;
Then with new joy I felt a man—
Brought out by Mac's installment plan. No soul need suffer long nor roam
About the streets for want of a home;
A little money, wit and sense,

Railroad Men Seeking Legislation on the Fellow Servant Question.

THE IMPORTANT BILL NOW PENDING BEFORE THE MISSOURI LEGISLATURE.

ing Damages for Accidents Caused by the Negligence of Fellow Employes-Laws on This Subject in the Different States of the Union.

A bill is now pending before the Legislature at Jefferson City, copied from the Minnesota w, making railroad companies, or corpo-ations operating railroads, liable for damages sustained by any agent or servant of such railroad while engaged in the work of operating such railroad by reason of the gligence of any other servant or agent. The existing law allows the re-covery of camages to a passenger who may be injured by reason of the negligence nies such a remedy to a fellow-employe. sed bill also deals with the co racts so often forced upon employes before hey are given work, in which they release he company in advance from any liability they may sustain by reason of the careless-ness or negligence of a fellow-employe. The ection concerning this says that no such contract or agreement shall be valid.

A committee of the Legislative Board of the abor organizations of the operating railway The interests represented include graph operators and machinists. Mr. V. P. Hart is Chairman and Mr. F. B. Ward bying against the bill, but a determined effort is to be made to force its passage. Below will be found copies of the laws in force n other States bearing upon this subject:

THE LAW IN ALABAMA.

TO SECURE PEACE.

Prof. Henry Preserved Smith Thinks of Offering His Resignation. CINCINNATI, O., Feb. 2 .- Now that Prof. Henry Preserved Smith has been vindicated by the Board of Trustees of Lafe Seminary, it is said by some of his intimate friends that he has thought of again offering his resignation and insisting that it be accepted. This action will be prompted by a desire to secure peace in the church, a de-sideratum for which he is as anxious as others. He was asked what he proposed to do in the matter. He said he preferred to say nothing at present on the subject, but would not contradict the report of his proposed resignation, and that for the present he would comply with the wishes of the Board of Trustees. In reply to the query as to what he thought of the action of the Board of Trustees in legislating him out of office and what he proposed to do about it, Dr. W. H. Roberts said firmly: have nothing whatever to say .

IT NEVER HAPPENED.

An Alleged Attempted Murder at the Good Shepherd Convent Denied. A morning paper published to-day a thrill-ing narrative of attempted murder in the House of the Good Shepherd, Seventeenth and Pine streets, in which Annie Hamilton House of the Good Shepherd, Seventeenth and Pine streets, in which Annie Hamilton pursued Consecrate Mary Clara with a butcher knife about the dormitory last Monday afternoon. At the request of the Mother Provincial of the order, who resides at the convent in this city, a Posr-Dispatch reporter called at the institution to-day and received from her a complete and unreserved denial of the entire story. She declared that the two persons, Mary Clara and Annie Hamilton, were the best of friends, and the latter has been very quiet and peaceable ever since she entered the convent. The Mother Provincial was very much provoked at the imaginative sensation, and to support her denial, she sent for Mary Clara and Annie Hamilton. Both of them clocked increduiously at each other and at looked increduiously at each other and at looked increduiously that there was the least particle of truth in the story, and protessed the closest friendship for each other. The authority given for the story by the paper was senged last Tuesday and returned to her cld haunts.

Provided further, that the said railway company shail cross over or under all existing steam, electric or streetrailway lines crossed on the route herein-before described.

the Bonhomme road west of the Skinker road, in which he is so heavily interested. Mr. Nicholis declared that it was an outrage. It would kill all the property east and west of the tracks. It is a very short sighted policy for the company to adopt such a route. It crosses Delmar avenue, one of the finest streets in the city, and ruins a great deal of fine residence property on both sides of the street. "They want to run through 182 acres of our property that is worth $4,000 an acre, and if they get through it will have to pay us the damages, and that will be no small amount, I can tell you."

John H. Terry: "The proposed Belt road will form a new boundary line for the city, and no improvements will go beyond that. Such a system of West End raliroad tracks will be just as bad and dangerous in cutting the city in two as the Mill Creek Valley is. People will be afraid to cross the tracks on foot or in vehicles of any kind. Street improvements, sewers, water, lighting, paving and rapid transit lines will all stop on this side of the Belt Line. The tracks will hem in the city as with a stone wall. Scattered all along the right of way freight cars will be stored on sidings, and there will be manufactories, coal and lumber yards, and brick yards that will cut off residence property on the other side, making the approaches to it very dangerous."

making the approaches to it very dangerous."
Christian Peper, formerly prominently identified with the Broadway street-car line, said: "The tendency was to rapid transit reaching far out for plenty of room and fresh air into new territory. The Beit line would prove to be an injury to property both east and west of it, an injury in fact to the city at large. Such a road for the West End would be just as bad for that section as the Mill Oreek valley is to the South End.
People would not build homes beyond it. The Beit road will be different from a street car line. There will be danger in crossing it, and people would be afraid to let their familles go out when they have to cross such a road."

SOME WHO PAVOR IT.

WILL BE A WALL.

New road paying a fabulous price for an entry to the city. They can build to the Belt line and then come in over that route and across the bridge in any direction. This Terminal Belt line will make a vast amount of property available for manufacturing purposes, and it will have a tendency to lower the price of that class of real estate. I believe it will depreciate the value of residence property west of the tracks on account of the danger in crossing, but that may be overcome in a great measure by placing gates and having watchmen on duty at all the street crossings."

Theophile Papin: "It is a mistaken idea to object to the building of a railroad on the theory that it may knock a milk wagon off the tracks on account of the danger in crossing, but that may be overcome in a great measure by placing gates and having watchmen on duty at all the street crossings."

Theophile Papin: "It is a mistaken idea to object to the building of a railroad on the theory that it may knock a milk wagon off the track. The days of constructing railways on a level with a street or a country road are passed. Railroad corporations fare not poor like they were when the Missouri Pacific was built; they are strong and rich, and are able and ought to be required to build their tracks over and under highways to conform with the necessities of a densely populated and growing city. Any argument that railroads in jure the value of property is too weak to stand."

E. S. Rows: "The Elet Line or either below or above all of the principal streets to be crossed by it. Some parcels of fine residence property through which the road runs may be damaged, but values i, oo feet west of the line will be enhanced by it for home sites.

"As to a great deal of property right along the line, the character of it will be changed it highly. As will be seen by the interviews published below both sides are manufacturing purposes than it is now. The Beit line will be of great benefit to St. Louis. I never knew of a railroad belog an injury to any property."

Charles Green: "The Beit Line will be no injury to property west of it. Such a road will help the city a great deal."

E. S. Guignon: "That road will be a great benefit to property all along from one end to the other of it. Of course there may be some exceptionally fine residence plots that will be damaged some by the road running through them, but the enhanced values in other places will more than outweigh the injury. All the residence property west of the road will be made a great deal more valuable than it now is."

Joseph E. McGinnis: "All this talk about hemming in the city with a Beit line and injuring the value of property is the silliest kind of nonsense. Railroads don't hem in a country or a city. They develop and populate it and make property more valuable. Look at the Oak Hill road. Before that line was built land that is now worth $500 to $1,000 an acre could have been bought at $100 to $150 an acre. It is only a lot of old skates who talk about hemming in the city and cutting down the price of property; and the same kind of fellows talked just the same way when the city limits were extended beyond Grand avenue. They said Grand avenue was the boundary, and there was no use in extending it, for the city would never grow beyond there. Look how it is all built up now!

A plat of the Merchants' Terminal Railway through St. Louis County was filed at Clayton to-day, the line conforming with the route portrayed in the diagram of the proposed road published in last Sunday's Post-Dispatch.

Philip Ruebel as yardmaster. The former yardmaster, Mike Knelley, resigned yesterday to go into business and Ruebel, who was lately master of the L. & N. yards, was appointed to fill the vacancy. When the night men peported for duty last night and were informed that Ruebel would be their foreman in future, they refused to go to work, and in consequence no switching was done in the yards until this morning. The strikers thought one of their number should have been made yardmaster after Knelley resigned and objected to the appointment of a man from another road. When the day men came on this morning the night men persuaded them to join in the strike, and the strikers then numbered about fifty. Supt. W. S. Wilson was notified of the strike and came here this morning to settle it if possible. He heard the strikers grievance and secured their consent to a temporary resumption of work by promising to give an answer at 4 p. m. to-day to their request for the appointment of one of their number as yardmaster. It is thought that the difficulty will be amicably adjusted.

shall cross over or under all existing steam, electric or street railway lines crossed on the route hereins or street railway lines crossed on the route herein of the route through the city as published in last Sunday's Post-bisparch. It will be seen that the middle section of the roude runs west of the city beyond Forest Park. A franchise for this portion of the route will of course have to be obtained from the County Court of St. Louis County. The following are some opinions of leading real estate men on the proposed road:

STRONGLY AGAINST IT.

Otto L. Mersman, in expressing his opinion of the effects of this belt line, said: The operation of such a road would be like closing in the city with a stone wall. It was not as though it was to be a single track road; there would be four and probably six tracks with freight trains and locomotives constantly running to and fro. Manufactories would be built all along the line, and the operation of such a road would have the same effect on property west of the tracks as the Mill Creek Vailey railway tracks have on South St. Louis property. People would not go west of the Belt line to build houses, because they would be afraid of the danger in crossing the tracks, and for that reason all the property on the west side of the road would be greatly depreciated in value.

Chas. C. Nicholls said he was astonished on arriving home from the East last month to find a notice of condemnation proceedings lying on his desk. That was the first intimation that he had of the intention of the Terminal Railway Co. to run their line through the property situated on the Bonhomme road west of the Skinker road, in which he is so heavily interested. Mr. Nicholis declared and people would be afraid to let their familles go out when they have to cross such a road."

SONE WHO FAVOR IT.

Wm. Horton: "I believe in railroads. I never knew of them doing harm to any city. The Belt line may change the character of some prospectively fine residence property through which it may run, but the road will make it equally valuable for other purposes. I do not believe that it will hurt the value of property west of it a particle, on the contrary, it will make it more valuable. There may be some parcels of property that the road will run through that may be damaged, and that, of course, is to be expected, but ist them say what they will, they can't say that the Belt line will not be a general benefit to the city. This enterprise must be considered in a broad sense. There are plenty of people who will object, there is no doubt, but that can't be helped. You can't hold the city back because some individual interest is injured. Why, I have often heard people make a big fuss about the injury they will sustain from a new street carline, but the road is built all the same, and the city progresses."

James M. Carpenter: "I was interested with John Hogan, O. B. Filley, J. W. Paramore and others in building a belt line about seven years age and got a franchise for the route and had all the finances arranged to build it, but the City Council loaded us down with so many conditions the expense of construction was more than we could stand, and we had to abandon the enterprise. As I understand a belt line, it is a toli road, that may be used like an old-fashion turn-pike by any one wno pays the price for riding over it. A belt line is needed more than any other kind of a railroad by St. Louis. It must be open for switching purposes, at reasonable charges, to all the roads contering at this city so that they can transfer their freight or passengers expeditiously from one road to another for any point in the country.

So far the week has not been marked by large balls or parties, but there have been an unusual number of dances and club par-ties, informal affairs, and several very delightful luncheons and formal card parties.

One of the most interesting affairs of the week was the charming lunche day from 8 to 5 o'clock by Mr. and Mrs. Louis Salveter, in compliment to Miss Rose Coghlan and Miss Mabel Eaton of Miss Coghlan's company, who is Mr. Salveter's niece. The beautiful and artistic home of the Salveters on Lucas avenue, near Ware, was tastefully decked with palms and cut lowers and aglow with light, forming a beautiful setting for the small company of ladies and gentlemen gathered in the pretty parlors, the ladies all attired in picturesque gowns of the richest material. The luncheon as served in courses with appropriate wines. The company consisted of Miss Rose Coghlan, Miss Mabel Eaton, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Coghlan and daughter, Mr. John T. Sullivan, Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Stockton, Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Eaton of Chicago, Mr. and Mrs. George A. Hayes and others.

Another delightful and artistic affair of the week was the entertainment of the Rubinstein Club on Tuesday afternoon by Mrs.

"ACTINA,"

The Great Eye Restorer and Catarrh Cure

Actina is the marvel of the nine-teenth century, for by its use the Blind See, the Dea' Hear, and Catarrhia impossible. Actina is truly a scientific instrument, of which the physicians are in utter ignorance of its structure and action. It is our secret and known only to ourselves. It will remove Ca-taracts, Tumors and Cancers. It will cure Myopia, Granulated Lids, and, in fact, give perfect vision without the use of glasses, where the eye has not been butchered by the oculists. "Actina" never falls to cure Ca-week last year.

St. Tonis Post-Bispatch, Chureday Chening, Jebruary 2, 1898.

Indian and Russian shipments to Western Europe were 2,886,000 bu last week, of which 2,736,000 bu were reported from Russia.

Cincinnati Price Current: Snow in winter wheat regions largely disappeared. Icy conditions in various districts. General position somewhat less favorable, but not much actual injury yet indicated."

It is expected that the general average of wheat in New South Wales will be 17 bu per acre, and that the total yield would be 7,250,000 bu, or sumdient for home requirements. Equally favorable reports concerning the harvests in Victoria have been received.

The temperature has refered.

The temperature has risen in the Upper Mississippi Valley, Eastern States and has fallen in the Ohio, and Lower Mississippi Valley and Texas. Snow has fallen mest of the Mississippi, while rain has occurred in the Ohio Valley. Forecast for St Louis: Light snow; slightly colder, followed by warmer temperature. Some of the traders endeavor to figure a bull argument out of the French wheat crop statistics lately issued by the French minister. Dornbusch is quite of another mind, and says (Jan. 21): "The general results of the returns must be considered satisfactory, as they point to an average acreage of over 90 per cent—90, T per cent—and the condition of the crop stands at $8.7 per cent, in marked contrast to the position of a year ago, when so many of the autumn-sown fields had to be reploughed and sceded with spring wheat," autumn-sown fields had to be reploughed and sceded with spring wheat,"

Receipts of nearly 64,000 bu wheat at this market and only 5 cars of this for through shipment is something to astonish the oldest inhabitant, particularly considering the season of the year, the unexampled movement of the crop since it began coming to market and the lowest prices on record that have been paid for it. Everything goes to prove how far out the Government has been in its guesses on the last two crops of wheat.

The Northwestern Miller has investigated the stocks of wheat held at interior points in the Northwest and, on the best authority, places the amount at bettern 22,000,000 and 25,000,000 bu. That reliable authority (?) Bradstreot's attack last week that those stocks were 9,380,000 bu. The aggregate stock at Duluth, Minneapolis, superior and at interior points, according to the Miller, is between 53,000,000 and 56,000,000 bu, where one year ago the total was 29,800,000 bu and in 1891 it was 22,-250,000 bu.

terior points, according to the Miller. Is between 53,000,000 and 56,000,000 bu, where one y ar ago the total was 29,800,000 bu and in 1891 it was 22,-250,000 bu.

The following newspaper clipping was accompanied by the message that 'the sender, who wishes this tiem published in the POST-DIRAC Control of the blue factory. The Green and Statistician of New South Wales estimates that the season's wheat harvest will reach over 7,000,000 bu. The number of acres reaped for grain will be 509,-570, and a yield of an average of 1645 bu per acre is expected. After deducting the seed requirements, the quantity available for food will be alout 6,500,-000. Thus it will be necessary to import a certain amount of wheat to keep the colony supplied with breadstuffs during the ensuing year.

Although the thaw of last week proved a welcome relef to the owners of ewe flocks which are lambing down, little work was done on the land, says the London Times of Jan. 20. The temperature ross but little above treasure point, the snow water so been taken the frost to increas, with the policy of the control of the welcome firmess in the cort trade, with the piles of all kinds of home-grown corn at the statute market last week. With this we had a continuance of the welcome firmess in the corn trade, with the rosult that the wheat average is now 263 4d per quarter, a rise of 6d qualte week barley, 25s 6d, a rise of 9d, and oats 16s 11d, a rise of 3d. When we consider that the supplies of home-grown corn were quite two-thirds more than in, the previous week, this affords matter for satisfaction.

The Londan Cargo List (Dornbusch) or Jan. 21, in a general review of European crop and weather conditions, grain markets, etc., says: From the North Cape to the Riviera and from the Bay of Biscay to the Caspian Sea, winter with little exception has flung a mantel of snow over the wheat fields of European corn were quitered with file continent our anowall in the case of the week parts of the week parts of the present has passed scathless through the A violation of the neutrality laws by the United States authorities.

It is understood that the charges against him in this country will be dismissed in order that he may be turned over to the Mexican Government, where short work will be made of him.

Despite the gloomy prospects before him. Capt. Echavarria is not at all downcast. When seen to-day he was playing a Mexican harp and seemed to enjoy the music and his surroundings. He said that if he must die for the patriotic cause in which his services were enlisted he would meet his fate bravely. He refused to make any other statement further than to admit his suilt as charged. The extradition proceedings in his case and those of Benavides and Gonzales begin to-day before United States Commissioner Price.

Harvard Smiles at Her Efforts to "Purify Athletics."

THE UNDERGRADUATE BULING WOULD HELP HER IMMENSELY.

The Suggestions to Exclude Graduates Came From Cambridge Two Years Ago-The Corbett-Mitchell Argument Begins-Jockeys' Tricks in Murky Weather-Sporting News.

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., Feb. 2.-There is more alk than ever about the new inter-collegiate athletic rule, limiting the eligibility o athletes to undergraduates. Harvard is watching matters closely and has been following the course of events with great care and interest. The conclusion reached is that while Yale may be partially sincere in her efforts to "purify athletics" there are other reasons which play no small part in the policy she is pursuing. It is clearly to her advantage to make these radical changes It has for years been a Yale complaint that Harvard had nearly 1,000 more men to draw from than she had.

This great difference in numbers lies mostly in the graduate and professional schools; the academic and scientific departments of the two universities vary but little when taken together. It is very clear, then, that by this one master stroke she can do away, once and for all, with the present discrepancy in numbers. Surely this is an object worth working

Then, again, this is a very convenient time for Yale to make this ruling in regard to athletes. With the exception of the nine it may safely be said that she never before had her available athletes so confined to the * Corbett has his eyes wide open to the situation and is viewing the outcome with complacence. "I guess the batterles will open up in a desor two," said he, while changing his costume during yosterday's matnese. "Now I am going to follow precedent in this matter. Mr. Mitchell will be accommodated if he wants to fight, but not if he wants advertising. Sullivan issued his famous challenge in March and we fought in September—about six months after, you see. Now, let Mitchell come to time, post his forfeit and I'll inght him next December, as I've told you already. I would fight him in September of October but can't break my theatrical contracts to satisfy a few impetuous critics. I'll make a match to fight in December and give bond for $50,000 for my appearance in the ring. I wont stand any short forfeits from Mitchell. Let him put up $10,000 or nothing. I am not out for advertising him. I want to get him bound down to a fight and then drub him." Then Jim ran out on the stage and practiced on Charley Twitchell.

the Swedish skater, and Joe Donoghue, have the Swedish skater, and Joe Donoghue, have sent out a communication in answer to Norseng's charge that they treated him unfairly. The communication states that Norseng agreed in the presence of four witnesses to forsake his amateur standing and skate Donoghue for a stake if the latter would race. Then in the midst of the negotiations with the Newburger, Norseng deserted him just at the time when the prospects for a match seemed brighest. The communication further states that the club is of the belief that Norseng's conduct was beneficial to them, as a man guilty of deliberately breaking his word would not hesitate to sell out a race and his friends if the proper inducement were offered him.

A SELF-CONFESSED EMBEZZLER.—Clarence P. Baranca, aged 22 years and unmarried, a collector for the Sylvester Coal Co. accompanied Mr. Win. W. Sylvester to the Four Courts yesterday afterneon and made a coolession to Chief Harrigan that he was short $700 in his accounts with his employers. He was locked up. Baranca had a short time ago made good a shertage of $300, and yesterday told that he was $700 behind and was ready to give himself up to the police. Fart living is the cause of his downfall.

EMBEZZLEMENT OF $4,000.

Man by Attorney Pattison.

Man by Attorney Pattison.

A blank warrant was secured to day at the Four Courts by E. W. Pattison, the attorney for an alleged embezziement of $4.000, to be filled out as soon as he could locate his man and have him arrested. The man for whom the warrant is intended is the President of a machinery, company located but a short time ago in the central part of the city, but since removed to some place unknown.

Mr. Pattison would say nothing about the case, explaining that in justice to his clients he did not think it fair to allow the names in the case nor the details to come out before the man was located, as it would be farcical to announce the fact through the press and notify him in time to get away.

A call was made at the former place of business of the machinery company, but the man was not round, the present occupants stating that they had taken the place after the machinery company had moved out of it. It was said that creditors of the firm were back of the charges, but another report says the man was really merely an agent for an out-of-town concern and that they made the charge.
